

Consumer Directed Services
Employer's Selection for Electronic Visit Verification Responsibilities

The 21st Century Cures Act is a federal law that requires states to implement Electronic Visit Verification (EVV) for all Medicaid personal care services requiring an in-home visit by a service provider, including services delivered through the Consumer Directed Services (CDS) option.

EVV is an electronic documentation system used to verify that services have been provided. The EVV system electronically documents the following information for each service visit:

- the type of service provided;
- name of the person receiving the service;
- name of the service provider (CDS employee);
- the location, including the address, where the service is provided;
- date and time the service delivery begins (clock in time);
- date and time the service delivery ends (clock out time); and
- other information HHSC determines is necessary to ensure the accurate adjudication of Medicaid claims.

When a CDS employee provides a service requiring EVV to a person, the employee must clock in to the EVV system when services begin and clock out of the EVV system when services end, using an approved electronic verification method. An electronic verification method is the method the employee will use to clock in and clock out of the EVV system. Approved methods include a mobile application, landline phone and alternative device.

The CDS employer is responsible for training the employee on clocking in and clocking out of the EVV system and must ensure the CDS employee uses the EVV system to record service visits.

Visit maintenance is the process for making corrections to clock in and clock out information in the EVV system to accurately reflect the delivery of services. For example, the CDS employer, or their Financial Management Services Agency (FMSA), must perform visit maintenance if an employee clocks in through the EVV system at the beginning of a shift but forgets to clock out at the end of the shift. In this case, the CDS employer or FMSA will add the clock out time and adjust the time worked in the EVV system. All required visit maintenance must be completed before the FMSA submits an EVV claim for payment.
